The recent summer carnival held under the auspices of the club was highly successful, and reports made Wednesday showed that over $300 was realized for the work at Pine Camp.

It was presented with the unqualified recommendation of the whole committee and was adopted by the convention without a dissenting vote. Besides asking for the prohibition of the sale of liquor in the city, the resolution also commends the wisdom of the last General Assembly in segregating the State alone, and reducing the rate to 20 cents on the $100.

The full text of the resolution follows:

"Whereas, the Virginia Bankers' Association, in convention assembled at Old Point Comfort, June 19, 1914, has been applying to the Virginia State Tax Commission, now in session at Richmond, Va., that it would be willing to have a committee from this association appear before the State Tax Commission on Saturday, June 20, 1914, to present a view of the banks on the subject of taxation in Virginia, and particularly as it relates to the tax upon shares of bank stock, the assessment of real estate owned by banks, and the tax on money; and

"Whereas, the banks of this State have for many years felt that the shares of stock of banks are assessed unequally, uniformly, and, therefore, excessively as compared with other forms of property; and

"Whereas, the present law regarding the deduction of the value of real estate owned by banks was changed at a recent session of the Legislature so as to give the same advantage to the banks owning real estate as other citizens of the State; and the Auditor of Virginia has declined to permit the banks to avail themselves of this law, thereby creating another discrimination against the banks; and

"Whereas, the banks of the State are interested in the matter of maintaining a low rate of taxation upon money in the hands of individuals and on deposit in bank, for the reason that it is in their judgment for the best interest of the State and the people at large; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved (1), That the members of the Virginia Bankers' Association, recognizing the duty of the State to raise by taxation a sum of money annually which shall be adequate to the demands upon it, and expressing their entire willingness to bear to this end their just share of the burden of such taxation, nevertheless, respectfully insist that this burden should be just, and not, as it unquestionably is now, and has for many years been, excessive. There is no sound reason in law or justice for the assessment of bank stock at a greater amount than is imposed upon other property, and any legislation which results in such inequality is arbitrary and unjust. The Constitution of the State, and the plain declaration of the national bank act, permit the State to tax the shares of a national bank, but only upon the express condition that they shall not be taxed at a greater rate than other moneyed capital.

"Resolved (2), That this association asks that the tax and assessment laws of the State be so amended as to remove any doubt as to the value of the real estate which a bank shall be allowed to deduct from the value of its capital, surplus and undivided profits. It is believed that the Legislature intended to make no difference in this particular between the banks and the individual, but in the actual construction and application of the act a difference is made, as is pointed out in the foregoing preamble, which is not only manifestly unjust to the banks, but is in violation of the act of Congress requiring uniformity and equality of taxation upon shares of national banks with that imposed upon other moneyed capital.

"Resolved (3), further, That the banks of the State commend the wisdom both from the standpoint of taxation and sound economics, of the act of the General Assembly of Virginia of January 27, 1914, by which the tax on money on deposit in banks and in the possession of the taxpayer, either within or without the State, was segregated in larger degree by the State alone, and the amount placed at 20 cents on the $100. A low tax rate on this class of property, will, in the opinion of the members of the association, ultimately result in larger revenue to the State and vast sums of money will be kept in the State, which otherwise might be invested beyond its limits."

THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT The convention began its business program of the second day with a meeting of the Executive Committee.

Home Treatment for Sallow, Wrinkled Skin A. C. P. asks: "What should I do for my sallow complexion, and how can I get rid of my wrinkles?"

Sallowiness is best removed by removing the skin itself. This is effectively accomplished by the use of an ordinary mercurized wax, which causes the sallow skin gradually to peel off. In fine particles scarcely noticeable to the naked eye. Within a week or so you will have an even, clear complexion. Use the new and beautiful youngling skin cream, the way at your drug store, every night like cold cream. Only don't rub it in. Wash it off in the morning with warm water.

For your wrinkles try a solution of powdered salicylic acid dissolved in 9 parts witch hazel. Rub this on your face in the morning for a while. The result will surprise you.—Beauty's Mirror.—Advertisement.

ing at 11 o'clock this morning. The report of the nominating committee appointed by President Hurl at yesterday's session was the first business in order. It recommended for election the following officers:

For president, W. B. Vest, of Newport News, cashier of the Citizens' National Bank, at present chairman of the executive council of the association.

For vice-president, C. E. Tiffany, of Warrenton, president of the Fauquier National Bank.

For secretary, Walker Scott, of Farmville, cashier of the Planters' Bank.

For treasurer, Julien H. Hill, of Richmond, cashier of the National State and City Bank.

The three last named officers now hold offices to which they are nominated, and were recommended by the nominating committee for re-election. It is regarded as certain that the report of the committee will be adopted without change.

The following were nominated for delegates to the convention: John B. Nell, Berryville; N. H. Williams, Chase City; W. J. Addison, Richmond; Fred B. Maple, Strasburg; G. R. Hatfield, Manassas; J. B. Fishburn, Roanoke; M. G. Field, Orange; C. Taylor Burke, Alexandria; W. A. Godwin, Norfolk; T. P. Taylor, Harrisonburg; R. D. Patterson, Chase City; C. P. Jordan, Potomac; J. A. Willett, Newport News; G. S. Vaughn, Lynchburg; S. L. Barrow, Blackstone.

Of the fifteen candidates named only one is to be elected. At least two of the ten, the association's constitution provides, must come from separate bank groups.

COMMITTEE TO APPEAR BEFORE TAX COMMISSION President Hurl appointed a committee of a committee to appear before the Tax Commission in Richmond tomorrow. W. H. Conlay, Covington; J. A. Willett, Newport News; J. B. Fishburn, Roanoke; C. P. Jordan, Potomac; C. R. Caldwell, Staunton; H. W. Jackson, Richmond; M. G. Field, Orange; C. E. Tiffany, Warrenton; J. B. Nell, Berryville; W. Jones, Bristol; and J. M. Hurl, Blackstone.

Eggleston's subject was "Educating the Producer." Mr. Tuttle, who is secretary of the committee on insurance of the American Bankers' Association, spoke on "Fidelity Bonds and Burglary Insurance."

H. H. Jackson, of Blackstone, grand vice-chancellor; Rev. Thomas H. White, D. D., of Clifton Forge, grand prelate; William N. Reid, of Portsmouth, grand master of work; W. H. Willis, of Richmond, grand master-at-arms; Thomas M. Crump, of Richmond, grand keeper of records and seals; D. H. Peyton, of Richmond, grand master of exchange; J. E. Byrd, of Newport News, grand inner-guard; W. P. Stokes, of Petersburg, grand outer-guard; W. Henry Jones, of Richmond, grand marshal.

The reports of various committees were submitted at yesterday morning's session. The report of the Finance committee showed that the Pythians had made a net gain of $25,000, of which $13,000 is in cash.

FIVE PARDONS GRANTED BY GOVERNOR STUART Acts in Each Case Upon Recommendation of Trial Judge and Commonwealth's Attorneys.

Governor Stuart yesterday granted a conditional pardon to Flossie Williams, colored, who pleaded guilty in the Corporation Court at Norfolk to a charge of murder and was sentenced to serve one year in the Penitentiary. The court and Commonwealth's attorney agreed that a pardon would be applied for after she had served six months.

J. W. Folk, sentenced to six months on the roads for larceny, was granted a conditional pardon upon the recommendation of the Police Justice of Petersburg.

James Post, convicted in the Hustings Court at Portsmouth of assault and sent to the penitentiary for one year, was also granted a conditional pardon, upon the recommendation of Judge Bain and the Commonwealth's attorney.

William H. Harlow, sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary for unlawful shooting, was given a conditional pardon upon the recommendation of the trial judge and the Commonwealth's attorney.

Aaron Burgess, sent to the roads for twelve months from the Corporation Court at Staunton for petit larceny, was also pardoned upon the recommendation of the Judge and Commonwealth's attorney.

OWLS PLAN TO ERECT HANDSOME NEW HOME Former Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams Makes Address at Gathering of Fraternal Order.

A good-sized representation of the membership of the Order of Owls, Richmond No. 1566, assembled last night in the auditorium at the John Marshall High School building.

Listening to prolonged discussion looking toward the erection at an early date of a home for the order in this city, and heard a strong address by Samuel W. Williams, of Wytheville, former Attorney-General and a charter member of the local organization.

After much discussion it was decided to appoint a committee of ten at the regular meeting of the fraternity next Monday night. The committee shall be to make a thorough investigation of the local situation and to report on the feasibility of erecting a new home and to arrange ways and means. After its investigation the committee will submit a report, and when this is done it is believed that definite action will be taken at once. Several brief speeches were made by various members of the order during the evening, and a spirit of enthusiasm prevailed at the gathering.

That the local nest of Owls has enjoyed a marvelous growth in membership since its establishment, a little more than three years ago, was shown last night, when it was pointed out in setting that there are now more than 1,200 members of the fraternity in Richmond. In the course of his speech Mr. Williams declared that with so strong a membership the order should have little trouble in raising funds for the purchase of a building site and for the erection of a handsome and commodious building.

A dozen or more sites on which to erect the proposed home were suggested, and it was stated that little trouble would be encountered in finding a suitable location when the time comes to commence the actual building operations. L. T. Branch, president of the local organization, presided.

The gathering last night was a determined one, and it is thought that within a short time actual construction work will commence. No announcements were made last night as to the size or character of the proposed home, but it was stated that the Owls' proposed home when erected will compare favorably with that of almost any other fraternal organization in Richmond.

MARRIED, DIVORCED, AND MARRIED AGAIN Virginia marriage laws were framed originally with many safeguards for the protection of prospective brides and grooms, and while some of these protective measures cause embarrassment frequently to those about to launch themselves on matrimonial seas, occasionally the shoe pinches the other foot. One of these occasions arose yesterday in the Henrico Circuit Court, and Deputy Clerk Thomas C. Fletcher, who hands out the precious bits of paper known as marriage licenses, was stampeded for several minutes. It arose in this manner:

Some old lawmaker in years gone by had a law enacted requiring that a license should not be issued unless the bride was known to the clerk or vouchered for by a reputable person. This was meant primarily to keep girls and boys from eloping without the consent of parents or guardian. Yesterday came a prospective groom into the office. With the usual sheepish grin he plunked down a single dollar bill, and waited with an air of expectancy.

He waited well until the certificate of the bride was asked for. Here the brow of the prospective groom became clouded. Soon, however, he smiled again, and left the office. In less than an hour he had returned, and with him was an attractive young woman. But hold! Was she of legal age, and who was to attest the fact?

"Now, look here," spoke up the man, "you ought to know us. Why, we got a divorce here less than a year ago, and if we got a divorce, I think we have a right to get married again."

The records were hauled out. Sure enough, the bride-to-be had divorced her husband on statutory grounds.

"But I still love him," she calmly stated.

The bride, who was Miss Edna Schultze, Beachamp, before her marriage, regained her maiden name in the divorce suit. She is twenty-five years old, and her former and future husband is George H. Hopkins, thirty-eight years old. Both reside in Henrico County.
